SAINTS TIMOTHY AND TITUS

January 26th, is the day the Church celebrates Saints Timothy and Titus. Why that day? Why those two? To answer those questions, first let us look at what the Church celebrated the previous day: the conversion of Saint Paul. I do not know exactly why it is celebrated on the 25th of January, but this is exactly one month after Christmas, when we celebrated the birth of Christ. On that day we celebrated the birth of Saul of Tarsus as a Christian: his transformation from a fanatical Jew trying to exterminate Christians into the Apostle of the Gentiles, someone who became a «born again Christian», ready to suffer anything to announce that Jesus is the Lord.

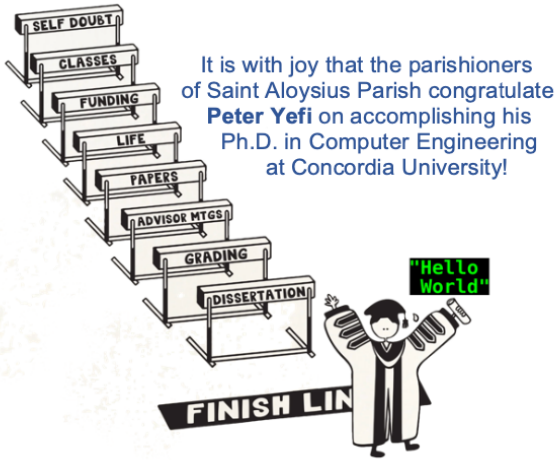

The Church has grouped these two celebrations for a reason. Timothy and Titus were both Gentiles; both were brought into the Church by Saint Paul, both were fellow workers with him, both were considered by him as his sons in the faith, both ended up bishops. Both are mentioned in the Acts of the Apostles and in many of Paul's letters; and to both of them Paul wrote personally.

Paul preached to thousands in his lifetime; in scores of cities and towns, over so many years. During that time, he went through many difficulties, among them the problems relating to circumcision. One of the two he himself circumcised, to satisfy the Jewish members of the community. The other, he refused to circumcise, going all the way to Jerusalem to debate the point with Peter and James. He, by then had understood that this was pointless, that Christianity was not a Jewish sect but a universal religion, the Catholic Church. This belief is really what was decided by the Ecumenical Council of Jerusalem with Peter and James, the first Pope and the first bishop of Jerusalem. As far as I know, both Titus and Timothy were present on that faithful day, both testified to their love of Christ and belief in God the Father. Both were Christians as both had been baptized, both loved Christ and both were Paul's assistants. And for Paul, both were his most trusted helpers. He would pass unto them especially the mission he had received from Christ on his way to Damascus, a mission that is now ours. Today like then, the Christians did not rule the political sphere; today like then we are a minority view. But today like then we are bearers of the Truth.

Doctor

It is with joy that the parishioners of Saint Aloysius Parish congratulate Peter Yefi on accomplishing his Ph.D. in Computer Engineering at Concordia University!

May God guide Peter in the sharing of his talents and knowledge with the world. We wish Peter much success in all his endeavours, zero bugs in his code, no shorts in his circuits & !fuzzy in his logic. May he always hear the C in the shell, get arrays in his job, never confuse Christmas (Dec 25) with Halloween (Oct 31), and may all his simulations work perfectly in hardware on the first try.

Doctor Yefi, as you start this new chapter, remember the words of Colossians 3:23, "Whatever you do, work at it with all your heart, as working for the Lord." God bless you, your family and your career.
